

Are there fiber optic splitter manufacturers in Costa Rica

AI Overview

Costa Rica hosts several fiber optic manufacturers and suppliers, including Fibernet Costa Rica and companies listed on trade platforms like Trademo, which can provide fiber optic splitters and related components.

Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

- Fibernet Costa Rica: A Costa Rican company specializing in fiber optic internet connectivity and infrastructure solutions. While primarily focused on network services, they may provide or source fiber optic splitters and related components for local deployments (Fibernet Costa Rica).
- Trademo Listings: Trademo offers a comprehensive directory of fiber optic manufacturers and suppliers in Costa Rica, including shipment details, trade volumes, and contact information. This platform can help identify companies that manufacture or distribute fiber optic splitters and other optical components (Trademo).
- KUPP America: While primarily a supplier of ducts and PEAD tubes for fiber optic cable installations, KUPP America provides complementary products and accessories for fiber optic networks in Central America, which may include splitter enclosures or related infrastructure components (KUPP America).
- Fiber One Costa Rica: Offers premium connectivity solutions and may provide fiber optic components, including splitters, for commercial and residential networks (Fiber One).

How to Source Fiber Optic Splitters

Trade Platforms: Use Trademo to filter Costa Rican suppliers specifically offering fiber optic splitters, view shipment histories, and contact manufacturers directly.

Local Distributors: Contact companies like Fibernet Costa Rica or Fiber One to inquire about available splitter models, technical specifications, and bulk purchasing options.

Infrastructure Suppliers: Companies like KUPP America provide supporting hardware for fiber optic networks, which can be paired with splitters for complete deployment solutions.
