

Direct supply from Saudi Arabian industrial optical module manufacturer

AI Overview

Saudi Arabia hosts a growing network of optical product manufacturers and B2B platforms that enable direct supply of industrial optical modules. Key Manufacturers and Suppliers Saudi Arabia has over 90 verified optical product manufacturers as of 2026, covering a wide range of optical modules, lenses, and related components. Notable companies include: Al Noor Lens Manufacturing Company – Specializes in ophthalmic lenses and coatings, leveraging advanced technologies for high-quality optical products. Basha Medical Group – Offers ophthalmic devices and optical solutions, including surgical instruments and industrial-grade optical components. Tabbara Optical – Provides a variety of optical products, including corrective lenses and high-quality industrial optical modules. Optimum Network Services (ONS) – Focuses on fiber optic cables and passive components, offering end-to-end solutions for network design, supply, and installation. Sourcing and Direct Supply Options B2B Marketplaces – Platforms like industry.com.sa connect Saudi factories and suppliers with global buyers, facilitating direct procurement of optical modules. Manufacturer Contact Lists – Comprehensive directories provide company names, addresses, phone numbers, emails, and websites for all 94 optical product manufacturers in Saudi Arabia, enabling direct outreach. Import/Export Data – Saudi Arabia imports optical components from countries like India, Vietnam, and France, but local manufacturers are increasingly capable of supplying industrial-grade optical modules, reducing reliance on imports. Recommendations for Direct Supply Identify the manufacturer based on product specialization (e.g., ophthalmic lenses, fiber optic modules, industrial optical components). Use B2B platforms to verify supplier credibility and request quotations. Contact manufacturers directly using verified contact information...
