

Price list for welding junction boxes

AI Overview

Welding junction boxes typically range from $10 to $50 per unit depending on size, material, and supplier. Price Overview Hensel Junction Boxes: Prices vary by size and type. For example, standard Hensel boxes in sizes 2, 3, and 4 are listed with individual prices, with GST, freight, and insurance extra as applicable. Exact prices depend on the catalog number and specifications such as cable entry size and protection class (IP rating) (Hensel price list 2025). Mouser Electronics: Welding-specific junction boxes, such as 4-inch square boxes with 1.5-inch depth, are available with unit pricing that varies based on quantity purchased. These boxes are designed for industrial welding applications and are priced per piece, typically in the $10-$50 range depending on configuration and supplier discounts. Factors Affecting Price Size and Depth: Larger boxes or deeper enclosures generally cost more. Material: Stainless steel or corrosion-resistant materials increase the price. Protection Rating: Boxes with higher IP ratings (e.g., IP65 or IP66) for dust and water resistance are more expensive. Customization: Custom-made or bespoke junction boxes for welding setups can significantly increase cost compared to standard models. Quantity: Bulk orders often reduce the per-unit price. Additional Considerations Freight and Insurance: Shipping costs are usually extra and can vary by location. Taxes: GST or other local levies may apply depending on the supplier. Supplier Options: RS Components, The Hireman, and R. STAHL also offer welding junction boxes, with varying delivery times and certifications for industrial use. For accurate budgeting, it is recommended to check the supplier catalog or request a quote based on the specific size, material, and quantity required.
